that work marked the weekly meeting of the Methodist preachers of the city at the Young Men's Christian Association this morning. The pastors are greatly encouraged by the largely increasing congregations, both at the morning and evening services, and are at present busily preparing for the next session of the Conference, which meets in Danville, November 8th.

November 8th.

The Ettricks Methodist Episcopal church, handsomely renovated and improved, was reopened yesterday, after being closed for six weeks for the improvements. A large congregation attended the opening services and heard an able sermon by the pastor, Rev. L. W. Guyer, on the "Beauty and Power of the Church of God." At the evening services Mr. Guyer preached a special sermon to young men on "A Purpose in Life."

A Joint Debate Yesterday Between Fine Speakers at Houston.

MESSRS, LASSITER AND GLASS

They Meet Messrs. John C. Blair and Pat McCaull-Other Meetings.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HOUSTON, VA., Sept. 25.—To-day was the opening of the September term of Halifax Court. Major Francis Rives
Lessitor and Congressman Carter Glass represented the Democrats and Captain Pat. McCaull and Assistant District Attorney John C. Blair, the Republicans.
A joint discussion was arranged. Hon.
L. C. Watkins, a Montague leader in the county, introduced Major Lassiter, and in so doing stated that Montague had been fairly beaten and that "we were, now all Martin men."

A Brilliant Oneming.

A Brilliant Opening. Major Lassiter made a brilliant opening speech, cloquent and argumentative, and he held the closest attention of the large audience, which frequently interrupted him with loud applause.

Mr. Blair followed in a rather taking speech, strong and vigorous from his point of view.

Sonator Barkedale introduced Mr.

Sunator Barksdale introduced Mr.
Glass, and in doing so made a ten-minutes' speech, in the delivery of which he received an ovation, his statement that the Democrats had tried to wash
the black out of an unwilling Republicanism, being greeted with uproarious applause.

applause.

Mr. Glass surpassed himself in replying to Blair. Witty, eloquent and sarcastic by turns, he rubbed it into his opponents to the great delight of the audience.

McCaull Handicapped.

McCaull Handicapped. A captain McCaull in reply made an entertaining and witty speech, but he was evidently laboring under the effect of Glass's first, speech, and took up a great portion of his time in discussing the tariff and Cleveland's administration. Mr. Glass, in concluding, made a terrific onslaught on the Republican party and the audience repeatedly cheered his telling hits at McCaull. At the end they gave Mr. Glass three rousing cheers and went forward to the stand to shake his hand. Unquestionally the Democrats had all the best of it.

EAST RADFORD, VA., September 25.—
Judge Lunsford L. Lewis, Republican candidate for Governor, spoke at Pearlsburg, Glies county, to-day, and was met by a big crowd and great enthusiasm. His speech was pronounced a fine one, and Judge Lewis expressed himself pleased with the reception accorded him. The Republicans had the courthouse The Republicans had the courthouse from 11 o'clock till 2, and Judge Lewis was followed, by Colonel Browning, of Pocahontas, and Samuel Hoge, of Roanoke. The courthouse was packed, and Judge Lewis made a fine impression. The Democrats had a brass band, but their crowd was hardly as large as that which greeted the Republican candidate. Their meeting lasted from 2 till 4, when Mr. James Alston Cabell. of Richmond, and Judge Samuel Williams, of Wytheville, made speeches that were enthusiastically received.

Judge Lewis took supper at Hotel Shere, East Radford, and left at 6:39 o'clock for Rosnoke. In a brief interview, he expressed himself pleased with the outlook in Southwest Virginia, and said that many Democrats had expressed their intention of voting the Republican ticket. At Jonesville, Lee county, he had the largest crowd that had ever assembled there, it was said.

Judge Lewis will speak at Pulaski Tuesday night and at East Radford Wednesday sight and day night and at East Radford Wednes-day night.

STAUNTON, VA., September 25,-The first Republican speech delivered here this campaign, was by Mr. J. L. Gleaves, of Wytheville, who addressed an audience of about one hundred in the county courthouse this afternoon.

house this afternoon.

He paid his compliments to the Demo-cratic party leaders. He said that while the great mass of the Democratic voters in Virginia are of the highest type of citizons, some of their party leaders are among the biggest rascals on earth, He discussed poll tax, free schools and free school books, graft in public offices in Democratic administration, and made an earnest plea for the "little log schoolearnest plea for the "little log school-house" against the centralized graded school.

He said the Democrats are fond of dig-ging into the bosom of the past and what do they bring up. Usually the skull of some great Democrat, for all great Demo-crats are under the ground. "Why the Democrats are opposed to popular education, I do not know," he said, "unless greater intelligence makes fower Democrats."

"The Republicans don't know how to steal," he declared. "We have not had the opportunity and don't know how to steal."

LYNCHBURG, VA., Sept. 25.—The trial of the case against Raleigh B.
Dawson, the Pittsylvania county man.

inal assult in this city last June on Bessie Shelton, the deaf and dumb girl, also of Pittsylvania, was commenced in the Corporation Court this morning. Dawson is being represented by George 17. Rison, of Chatham. It has been necessary to write each question and allow the girl to take her time to reply. She was on the stand seven hours to-day, and when court adjourned the attorneys were not through with her, and she will be recalled in the morning.

The girl is not making her evidence as strong as she did at the preliminary hearing and before the stand jury, as she has denied the strongest statement made against Dawson before the police court, which will tend to greatly weaken the case for the prosecution. Dawson made against Dawson before the police court, which will tend to greatly weaken the case for the prosecution. Dawson is accommanied in court by his vile and child. The public has been excluded from the court-room by Judge Christian.

It is expected that the case can go to the jury some time to-morrow afternoon.

Negro Man Drowned. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WARSAW, VA., September 25.—Dan Fisher (colored), aged 25 years, was drowned off Farabam Creek, Rapparannock River, at four o'clock this afternoon, Fisher was attempting to place a
